

Q&A with Dr. Meg Blackburn

From time to time I have posed various questions to Meg Blackburn, who I consider to be the authority on Weston with regards to his abilities.

1. How is he so good at book learning? I can show him something and he will glance at it and then be able to take a test?

Weston has a photographic memory. On top of that, he learns with his whole body and energy field. It is like he is a walking sponge.

2. Can others be taught to learn this way?

Not really. This is a gift that Weston and other children have. In order to teach others to learn like this they must be willing to let go of every pre-conception that they have about anything and allow their minds to clear completely. Not too many people trust enough to do this. Then there is the energy field. Weston's is far more evolved than most people on the planet. It is clean and clear of blockages and disharmonics except for the part of his brain that was compressed in early childhood, but we are working on that...

3. Okay, what about math? The math he is doing (trigonometry) is something I do not understand. Yet, if I just have him look at the book he can take a test at the end and know how to formulate the answers correctly. Unlike history, for example, this is not rote learning. How does he do that???

When one travels multi-dimensionally, out of body as Weston does, it is very easy to understand the intricate patternings within the universal structure. Trigonometry is no big deal compared to that. His consciousness is able to tap into the universal consciousness and bring back answers readily.

4. Languages - He loves foreign languages! Will watch Spanish and Japanese television all the time, and does exceptionally well in his Spanish studies in school. Why is it so easy for him?

Weston has no limitations in his learning process and none of the hang-ups that cause a lot of people to have difficulties learning languages. He is not at all self conscious. At the same time, Weston receives the meanings of his experiences energetically so words don't really matter.

5. Your Masters have said he is not an Indigo and not a Crystal, than what is he? Or is that even important?

Weston was originally a Crystalline Child, but has evolved into what I see for the next generation. His energy field is no longer a color spectrum but rather pure white, encompassing all colors.

6. What was his last incarnation?

Weston was a galactic, of another planetary system in a parallel dimension. He was exceptional in the sciences and utilized a vast memory skill to assist people on his planet and in his society toward higher learning.

7. What are some of the things he enjoys doing when he is "out there" in the other consciousness?

He loves being with his girl and conferring with the council of twelve. He works with the highest of the galactic councils. Mostly though, Weston loves the freedom of out of body travel, flying through dimensions and time and space as if he was riding a wave. When he is traveling faster than the speed of light, as consciousness is faster than the speed of light, he laughs a lot. He moves through all reality with ease. He really loves going back to the Atlantean times because he remembers it quite specifically. He goes there often because in another life and time he felt as if he didn't finish there. He continues to remedy that.

8. What do you mean when you say, "Weston has grown in his gifts?"

Ok hard to explain, but I will try. When I get messages from my "Guys", the Masters who are my guides, they have always taught me by sending me information energetically that is at once whole concepts and all the little details all of which is too much to mentally absorb. It is like getting infused with information that surfaces when I need it. I can know about anything in creation this way. It is like being wired into the collective consciousness. It is pictures, feelings, words, knowing and being it all at once. Weston used to communicate with me in streams of words like an ongoing conversation. I did get pictures as well, but not like he is doing now. Now he is projecting complete information. This time he communicated with me like the "big guys" just as I described above. To me, this is huge because it shows me that he has leaped into an even higher state of consciousness. He has really grown.

9. What was Weston doing recently in Atlantis?

When Weston was (is) in Atlantis, he works kind of like a crystal scientist. He knows all of the secrets and where the key crystals are kept or hidden. When he and I went there he showed me part of this in an area where I had never been or visioned. I was very excited at the time. Right now he is doing something with the finer harmonics. I think that it is a mutual balancing between him and the energies. This is a healing in a way and also a regeneration which Atlantis is famous for. There are crystalline healing chambers there which I now know he had something to do with setting up. How cool is that? I have been working in them for years and until this moment didn't realize he and I had that connection as well!
